Report for 6.3.3: Percentage of teaching and non-teaching staff participating in Faculty development Programmes (FDP), Management Development Programmes (MDPs) professional development /administrative training programs during the last five years

In the pursuit of academic excellence and operational efficiency, our institution places a high priority on the continuous professional development of both teaching and non-teaching staff. Over the past five years, we have actively encouraged and supported our staff to participate in Faculty Development Programmes (FDP) and various other professional development and administrative training programs. As a result, we are proud to report that 62.5 % of our staff members have participated in these programs. This commitment to ongoing professional growth not only enhances the skills and capabilities of our team but also significantly contributes to the overall quality and effectiveness of our institution.

Our commitment to the professional development of both teaching and non-teaching staff is evident through the substantial participation in Faculty Development Programmes (FDP) and other training initiatives over the past five years. The participation rate among our staff members highlights our dedication to fostering a culture of continuous improvement and excellence. These efforts ensure that our staff remains well-equipped with the latest knowledge and skills, ultimately enhancing the educational experience for our students and the operational efficiency of our institution. As we move forward, we remain dedicated to supporting and expanding these development opportunities, reinforcing our position as a leader in educational excellence and institutional effectiveness.
